sponsorship program

Equip and empower our growing professional network

Greetings,

The International Anaplastology Association's Board of Directors is pleased to invite you to participate in the 2022 Sponsorship Program. Each sponsorship opportunity provides an avenue for your company to be recognized as a valuable leader in the provision of products and services to anaplastologists and their entire rehabilitation team of health care professionals as well as their patients.

As a sponsor, your company can be promoted in a variety of ways. Our sponsorship packages are organized according to various IAA events or programs through which sponsors may connect with participants, such as webinars, online training courses, the 2022 IAA Virtual Annual Conference and/or our social media communities. Our sponsorship program is designed to provide you with the following opportunities:

- To reach an audience of international colleagues in anaplastology and head and neck rehabilitation fields from across the globe, including roughly 20 different disciplines;
- To introduce your products and/or services to your target market;
- Network with your collaborators and peers;
- Engage in real-time feedback on your products and/or services;
- Enhance your market reach;
- And, promote your brand through multiple communication channels.

We hope that you will take a moment to explore the sponsorship opportunities outlined on the following pages and that you will consider participating as a sponsor in 2022. While the pandemic has changed our world and dealt us all a great number of challenges to overcome, the IAA is proud of its success in embracing the potential of virtual learning and making educational opportunities available to a larger and more diverse, global audience. We have laid the groundwork to achieve even greater participation in 2022 and we hope you will take advantage of the platform available to you through our sponsorship benefits.

Thank you in advance for your commitment to our organization and the anaplastology community.

Sincere regards,

The International Anaplastology Association Board of Directors

Anaplastology & the IAA

Anaplastology is a specialized healthcare field focused on providing custom, restorative prostheses for patients who are missing part of their face or body due to cancer, traumatic injury, or congenital differences.

Customized prosthetic rehabilitation serves as an alternative treatment option when surgical reconstruction is unachievable or undesired by the patient. Anaplastology services typically include custom facial, breast, and partial hand and foot prostheses.

The practice of anaplastology draws on advanced scientific data derived from research and best practices in biomedical sciences, dentistry, oncology, reconstructive surgery, materials science and engineering, applications of 3D modeling and printing, as well as artistic application of color theory, painting, sculpting, and mold fabrication.

The International Anaplastology Association is an international organization founded in 1980 as the American Anaplastology Association and incorporated in California as a 501c6 Nonprofit Mutual Benefit Corporation. The association originated to bring together a wide variety of specialists involved in providing restorative prostheses for patients with absent or undeveloped facial and somatic anatomy.

Our Mission – The IAA promotes quality patient care by supporting the development of best practices in anaplastology through educational conferences, networking, publication, and advocacy opportunities.

Our Vision – The International Anaplastology Association is the recognized global forum for excellence in continuing education, research, and innovation in anaplastology.

The IAA embraces these core values...

- To create an intellectual climate where members can come from diverse professions and turn information into knowledge.
- To introduce old and new members to ideas that will encourage critical thinking.
- To provide a respectful atmosphere in which members express their view, show their work and listen and learn from the work and views of others.

Virtual Programs & Expanded Reach

Since the spring of 2020, the IAA has developed virtual programming in an effort to avoid pandemic-related health risks of gathering in person, but also to expand the reach of our educational opportunities. The Access Anaplastology Web Series (AAWS) was created to make webinars and online training courses more accessible and affordable to members and colleagues around the world. During our first AAWS in the fall of 2020, we engaged over 200 participants from more than 30 countries, reaching a largely new audience. Six months later, we delivered our first Virtual Conference featuring presenters from the Australia, Belgium, Brasil, Canada, France, India, Kenya, the Netherlands, Russia, Turkey, and the United States. The virtual conference registered over 120 participants from more than 20 different countries!

These virtual programs have allowed the IAA to more fully achieve its international mission and have proven to be successful alternatives to our regular in-person programming. We have continued to develop these programs—the 2021 AAWS launched in September, the 2022 IAA Annual Virtual Conference is scheduled for this June 10-11th, and the 2022 AAWS will become available in the upcoming fall!
